ASSIGNMENT 5

EVENTOR

Since our project is simple, i.e. we won't have that much information on our website, we decided to do the "information rich" approach. Our website contains meta bar, logo field and the body. Logo field will contain our project name and the meta bar contains the following tabs:

- Home: This is our home page where user starts browsing. As mentioned above, this page contains the profile of the user, most recent activities and the our recommendations for the future events.
- My Profile: This page contains only the profile of the user in more details, I.e: it will contain the user information, the events the user created and joined.
- Activities: This tab is the link to the page with the full list of activities. Here the user can find all the events using the filters given.
- Imprint: Due to German regulations, every publicly accessible website is well advised to contain a disclaimer concerning foreign links. Thus we have this special page with disclaimer.
